FROM CHURCH TO SCHOOL.

Rev. Herbert Scholz, pastor of the Christian Church in Berkley, has resigned and will go to Murion, N. C., to teach school. He will leave in November, and the reason assigned for the change is the ill health of Mrs. Scholz, which makes it necessary to seek a country of a higher altitude than the tidewater.

Commissioners for the condemnation of the right of way land through which the Tidewater Railway is to pass in the Deep Creek District of Norfolk_county, in-spected the land to-day and will an-nounce their report later. They were ap-pointed by Judge W. N. Portlock, and are J. M. Willey, John D. Moore, Corcellus Thomas, George Brown and W. B. nellus Thomas, George Brown and W. B. Carney.

AN ATTORNEY ARRESTED.

Julian T. Saunders, a lawyer of Newport News, who was formerly of Norfolk, was taken back to Nowport News to-day by police officers. He was arrested here on the request of the officers of Nowport News, on the charge of jumping a bail bond there. He refeuses to return to Newport News without a warrant, and argued and read law in his rant, and argued and read law in his cwn case. Justice Simmons issued a warrant on the complaint of the Newport News detective and thus overcame the objection of the prisoner, and sent him back with the officers, COUNCILMAN BELOTE'S ESCAPE. COUNCILMAN BELOTE'S ESCAPE.

Virginia Suitor Wins Out Against West Virginia

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

CHATHAM, VA., September 1.-Miss Kate Garrett, of McDowell, W. Va., and Floyd Adkins, of Pittsylvania county, eloped to Pelham, N. C. yesterday, where they were married. The bride, a brunette of fifteen summers, was visiting at her grandfathers in Franklin county, They drove more than twenty miles to this place, where they abandoned their buggy, completing the Journey by rall. The clope ment was the result of rival lovers for the young ladies hand, but the Virginia sulter stood nearer to her heart, and lacking the courage to reveal her pre-ference she left her West Virginia sulter to be informed of his rejection, through the press,

SUFFOLK, VA., September 1.—Despite stremous parental objections, and not-withstanding obstacles that were seemingly unsurmountable, little Cupid has made another winning. The way of the victory-getting was by a simuous and circuitous route, and even at that, some close and strategic alliances were required to bring about a successful consummation of the little goddess' cleverly conceived plans.

summition of the little goddess' cleverly conceived plans.

In other words, Dalion D. Norfleet, the star foot-ball player of Suffolk, and Miss Olah S. Pierce, daughter of Mrs. Mary S. Pierce, last evening doped to Corapeake, N. C., where they were married by Justice Jones at a quarter to 8 o'clock. The bridegroom is twenty-one years old, his bride a tail and graceful brunette of nineteen.

Last evening Miss Pierce bought a ticket to Portsmouth, Va., via the Seaboard Air Line, Her trunk was checked to that town. Her mother, all unconscious of the schemes being laid, accompanied the girl to the station and kissed her good-bye.

But in the meantime little Cupid had But in the meantime little Cupid had one ally on the train. He was Jodie Walls, who purchased a ticket to Staver, three miles east of Suffolk. Between here and Stever Mr. Walls and Miss Pierce exchanged tickets. The eloping girl got of at Staver, where Roland Holland met her with a carriage, which went on to Portsmouth to bring back the trunk, which arrived here at 9:23 last night.

back to the suburbs of Suffolk, where they were joined by the bridegroom-elect at Norfleet's Fork.

elect at Norficet's Fork.

The two lovers and young Holland then hied themselves off to Caropeake, where the magistrate added his finishing touches to the little romance.

The license was secured yesterday by Lee Holland at Gatesville, thirty miles south of here. He arrived in Suffelk in time to deliver the nuptial permit before the wedding carriage toured southward.

Mr. and Mrs. Norficet arrived in Suf-

Mr. and Mrs. Norfleet arrived in Suf-folk last evening at 11:15 o'clock, and are making their home on Pinner Street, near/Washington. Mrs. Mary Pierce, the bride's mother, this afternoon has asked out the elopement at her home, No. 235 Main Street.

"I don't know anything about it," she said, "I have heard the rumor, but don't know for sure whether Olah is married or not. I went with her to the train, where she left for Portsmouth, presumbly to stay a week. She asked me to come down and spend Sunday with her."
"Did she and Dalton Norfleet keep company?"

company?"
"Not that I know of. He didn't come here to see her. In fact, I don't even know the young man."

One advantage of the Portsmouth scheme to the bride is that she got off with her trunk, clothing and other things she cared to carry, and all without ex-citing the suspicion of the mother, who objected to her marrying.

Interesting Plans of Mr. and Mrs.

David N. Walker.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

LOUISA, VA. Septomber 1.-Mr. Leroy Pettus, of Memphis, Tenn., through his attorney, Mr. Lindsay Gordon, sold yesterday his tract of land lying west of Harris Creek to Mr. and Mrs. D. N.
Walker. They propose immediately to creet a hunters' lodge upon it and enclosing it with lands they already owned to make a game preserve and grazing farm. It is already well stocked with various kinds of game, such as partridges, turkeys, rabbits, etc., and bordors the South Anna River, which is well stocked with game fish.

It is all a part of the 5,210-acre grant
given to Thomas Johnson, of Roundabout, in 1700, and though it has passed through many hands, in reverting to Mrs. Walker ti goes back to a great-granddaughter of
